- Week beginning 25.1.21

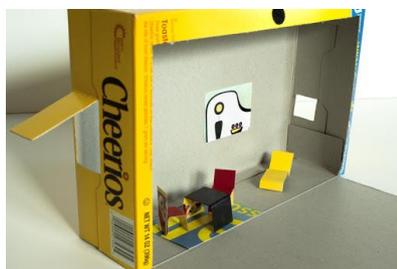

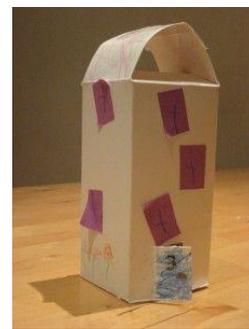

Challenge 1:

Go on a walk for your daily exercise with your grown up. See if you can spot and talk about different types of houses or homes. Talk to your grown up about the type of home you live in.

If you don't have resources to make a 3D houses, you could always have a go at building your house out of 2D flat shapes. PARENTS: Please remember that learning through play is very important at this age. Please allow your child to play as much as possible. It is great to see so many parents and their children working together to complete the work set each week, but please remember if your child is tired, let them take a break. We are not expecting every single task to be completed each week (unless you want to, of course!). All we ask is for a minimum of 1 task to be completed each week.

Thank you, keep up all the hard work and stay safe.
