

Transition to High School

Online Workshop

Tuesday 15th June 2021

7pm-9pm

Do you and your child have anxieties and concerns regarding this next stage of their education? Would you like some strategies and support to help you and your child?

Is your child with a diagnosis of ADHD and/or Autism transferring to High School this September?

Parents whose children are transferring to High School are invited to attend our "Transition to High School Workshop" which will consist of two themes that include

Understanding what this change will mean for your child, how to ensure the transition goes smoothly and who to go to for help if you have concerns and worries. It will also provide an opportunity to look at what the school should be providing for your child.

We also will explore how the change will be affecting your child and what we can do as parents to support them in both practical and emotional ways during this time.

Led by Therese Glynn, Director of ADHD Services and Alison Futerman, Speech and Language Therapist, this workshop also provides a valuable opportunity for you to hear about our Youth Team and find out about the support they will be able to offer for your child during this transition stage and beyond. (Please note that we can only provide some services to families living in local authorities that we receive funding from).

The workshop is anticipated to last for 2 hours, though we have ensured there will be time at the end to ask questions if needed.

To book a place on the workshop please complete the booking form below and return to adhd@adhdandautism.org and a zoom link will be sent to you.

Cost £10.00

CAAS will also be holding a Transition Drama Therapy workshop for children to be held in the summer holidays and with a further workshop in October half term. Parents will have the opportunity to book their child onto these workshops through the transition evening.
