Message from Miss Taunt

Dear Families

It is really important to me as a teacher and a parent that learning is fun. I have 3 children all in primary school and they come home telling me both about the really boring lessons and the really exciting ones. We know children learn better when they are motivated and excited by what they are learning.

At Belmore we are working hard to make learning engaging, exciting and motivating. We want children to want to learn.

This has started with reading some brilliant books and planning out some really exciting trips for the year. We also believe there are things all children should have the chance to do before they go to high school from making a mud pie to going to the theatre to sleeping in a tent. That's why our staff have come up with 37 things that we think all of our children should do before they leave Belmore. We have planned carefully how all children will have a chance to do these things if they come to Belmore from Nursery to year 6. These things are starting from this term so look out for them appearing in our newsletters and social media pages. You can see the full list on page 2.

Have a great weekend!

Rose Taunt

October is Black History Month in the UK. The first Black History Month in the UK took place in 1987, the 150th anniversary of the abolition of slavery in the Caribbean. The purpose of Black history Mont is to challenge racism and celebrate the history of black people all over the world. All of the books recommended this month have either a black main protagonist, a black author or are themed around important black stories and historical events.
